 Look, I'm not trying to start an argument over this, but we have A LOT of people that visit this site. Personally, I do not get offended at seeing some breasts but I know many other visitors might/would. I'm sure we have a lot of young visitors here. This is not the place for that...this is the place for movie cars. This isn't the Internet Movie Breast Database.
 If you disagree, that's fine, but it's breaking the rules as far as I see it.

chicomarx  In Europe you sometimes see naked breasts in commercials, so it's not a big deal.

T'es lourd quand même avec ta liberté d'expression (et je reste poli ; je me contente de ma liberté de penser plutôt que de ma liberté d'expression du coup).
Il ne faut pas confondre liberté et anarchie.

By the way the company which hosts this site, in your freedom country, is not really allowing such pictures either. If someday they delete the site for that, I'll send you the 7 GB of pictures on DVD so you can reupload them somewhere else.

And all the imageshack pictures are stored on US servers, which are even less liking that I think.

You don't get it do you? It doesn't matter if it's socially acceptable or considered right in your country. It's against the rules as I've pointed out already. Some of us log into this site from work at times or from homes where our families live. What if there's someone else behind us when we're looking at it?

You like breasts/naked women...that's fine. I have no problem with that. But this isn't the place for you to be showing them off.

I know that sixcyl is titillating there. And some of you should be careful not to over react, unless we soon hear the word "ayatollah" pronounced.

Also I would like to recall something: the rules say "Under no circumstance post pictures which, in any way, may be considered pornographic or unsuitable for viewing by the general public; including young children." Nowhere do they say that women's breasts are pornographic, or unsuitable for viewing by the general public; including young children (who in fact see them at a very early age everyday). The rules should be made clearer, then. If not, nothing can be held against him.

To put it simply, it's not necessary to post nude pictures on this site, even if we forget about the site's guidelines for a second, the fact is some members find it inappropriate and I think that's a good enough reason not to do it, yet sixcyl continues to ignore their protests and does whatever he pleases, it's like he just doesn't care what other people think. I don't find nudity offensive, but I think sixcyl's habit of shamelessly smearing pictures of naked/half naked women on film pages is silly and rather tacky. Why can't he just keep these pictures to himself?

I am teasing myself but I find this an interesting discussion.
 - Sixcyl habit may be originally silly, I agree, but it becomes healthy and rightful at the moment some try to forbid him to do so.
 - As I said, the rules need to be clarified. If not, what is "unsuitable" or "inappropriate" is purely a matter of opinion, and if you let only the hypocrits of the world decide of this it's a blow against democracy. So, if you don't want any nudity in the pictures posted on imcdb, let's write it down and the problem is over.
 Until there is a naked girl in front of a very rare car of which there's no other on the siter, and then someone will say "maybe we can make an exception there..."

Dear sirs, to cool down this (repeated) discussion (a kind of clash of European an US-American civilization), I suggest a compromise. What do you think about a compromise?

We (sixcyl especially) avoid naked breasts and reduce pics of that kind -cute women does not disturbes in my opinion- in a way like that one:

Yes, US-Americans are thinking different about that, people from strict conservative catholic countries, too, from Asian countries either, moslemlic, but also buddistic (topless is in Thailand forbidden, too).

Otherwise we Europeans have learned other acting and behaviour in different points. So the most US-movies with gun-shooting, violence and fights are censored over here! Think about that, too. (My wife want's to have "From Dusk till Dawn" in the original cut. My friend from Canada had to organize it).

I'm against violent scence, too. Otherwise the American sytle with the "beep"-words and covered/censored breasts is very childish and stupid in my opinion.

I am not Catholic or conservative at all, in fact I am about the most liberal hippy-type atheist person you will ever come across, but I still think these images are innappropriate for this setting. I don't have a problem with these images on another site, but they are just not necessary on IMCDB. I think the most simple solution for this though, is not to ban IMCDB nudity, but to require any "controversial" images to be put in a spoiler tag (why is it there if it's not going to be used?) That way, sixcly and the other pervert Frenchmen (yes I know this is a bit racist of me to say but if you notice it is all the French and Belgian people who are defending him, and the rest who are against it 😊 ) will still have their images, but the rest of us won't have to look at them everytime we glance over a movie page.

You're blowing this a bit out of proportion. Never did I say that you were a pervert or say anything because you were French. But anyhow, I do agree that the rules need to be clarified. antp, you're the webmaster. You should be the one settling this now once and for all. If you want to change the rules to allow for sixcyl to post his pictures, then fine...just clarify the rules as others have said and hopefully this discussion won't have to come up.

For the record, I am not offended by breasts or think that sixcyl is going to hell or something like that. I just disagree with them for this setting and tried to use what I see as a concrete rule to back my claim up. It wasn't necessarily just some random rant that I started without backing it up.

I hope nobody takes this the wrong way...I certainly have no "hate" for anyone here but this discussion has come up many times before and I wish it could just be dealt with already.

All that needs to happen is for antp to take charge and edit the pictures out of sixcyl's first comment and then this argument will be over. And sixcyl should realise in future it's better not to post pictures containing nudity, because it will only cause another argument.

We just happen to have a sense of what's appropriate and what isn't. We aren't just a bunch of prudes. These images aren't exactly offensive (this kind of film would still be allowed on TV in Britain), just inappropriate for this site. Simple as that.

In know, here it's same. In German the word "pervers" (same as "pervert" in English) is basically related on sexual things, too. But in the actualy spoken language, especially the youth's slang, it's also used in the meaning of "ugly" or "bad taste".

I'm not sure. Perhaps in this thread. When the next breasts will be posted, it will start again.

@sixcyl: if you are outside somewhere there: could you agree with a little compromise? Less breast-pics, but if some must be presented, in your opinion, please choose cuter ones?

Some can really have a bad influence on your appetite for the next meal.

Any admin can add a spoiler to these pics though. I am kinda fed up with that and the too-background cars. I just hope that he will not "win" by having me and/or others leaving the site some day
